KING OCCURRENCE. - In the village of Free SHOCKING OCCURRENCE.—In the village of Freedom, Owen county, Indiana, on the 4th instant, while Madison and William Stinson and some others, were engaged in drinking and card playing, a dispute arose between the Sunsons, whereupon Madison Stinson drew his knife and stabbed Wm Stinson in the lower part of the abdomen. The deceased lingered until Monday morning at 3 o'clock, and expired, from the wound inflicted by a blood relative—a cousin.

Constitutional.—Commodore Elliott, who used to command the "Constitution," was shovelling the snow away from the front of his dwelling, the other day, near Westchester, when an old Quaker gentleman stopped and eyed him, "Ah, Commodore," said he, "thee has the will, but thee hasn't any mere the 'Constitution.'" That was an unintentional pun.

rentional pun.

Professional Pun.—A poor corset maker, out of work, and starving, thus vented her miserable complaint:—"Shame that I should be without bread, I that have stayed the stomachs of thousands." She might have added:—"Alas! that the cause of so much 'bustle' in the world, should sink into such period."

A New Reading.—" J. Cypress, Jr." speaks of an old triend of his, who, when a collegian, was presented with a bible from an old aunt. On receiving it, he wrote upon the fly-leaf what he considered the apposite sentiments of Marc Antony—

"Let but the commons hear this testament, Which, pardon me, I do not mean to read."

Which, pardon me, I do not mean to read."

Navigation of the Mississippi.—A memorial to Congress on the subject of improving the navigation of the Mississippi, was published in the St. Louis Republican a few days since. It is stated in the document, that in four years 138 steamboats were lost in the river, occasioning a pecuniary loss of $3,710,000. Between the 11th of September and 15 h October last year, eight boats were lost, causing a destruction of property to the amount of $219,000, and the loss of forty or fifty lives. Five of the boats were sunk within a mile of one place.

the loss of forty or fifty lives. Five of the boats were sunk within a mile of one place.

INTERESTING TRIAL—We learn that an interesting trial took place at Natchitoches on the 15th, a notice of which is given by the Herald, of that city. It was the trial of C. H. Penherton, in the case of Spofford, Tileston & Co., of New York, vs. Pemberton & Peck. It seems that the suit was instituted some time in September last, on a note signed by the defendants, and the petition charged that the defendants were guilty of giving a fraudulent preference to some of their creditors, and that they were fraudulent debtors within the meaning of the act of 1840. Mr. Pemberton, on the 21st of September, under this charge, was committed to prison, where he remained until the day of the trial. The evidence in the case was voluminous. No lacts whatever were proved to substantiate the charges of fraud, and several witnesses of high respectability testified to the excellent character of the defendant. The jury returned a verdict for the defendants against the plaintiffs for $2500 damages, for the wrongful imprisonment of Pemberton, from which amount the claim of the plaintiffs, amounting to about $800, is to be deducted.

A Good Trick.—The newspaper avorticity at plaintiffs, amounting to about $800, is to be deducted.

A Good Trick.—The newspaper proprietors at Pittsburgh all had expresses out to carry in the President's message. One of the papers says that the owner of the Pittsburgh Chronicle got seventeen out of the twenty-five newsboys in that city up into a room, by inviting them to a feast of apples, and then locked them up there until his paper was printed and ready for sale, say from half-past nine o'clock in the morning till one at noon. In the meantime, the other papers were out, but there were no boys to sell them! That was a sharp trick. Yet the Chronicle is a capital paper.

REMAINS OF GEN. BOLIVAR.—It will be seen by the following extract from the Norfolk Beacon, that the remains of the late Gen. Simon Bolivar are to be removed from their present resting place, to Carracas, in Venezuela, in whose cause he served so long as a soldier and a statesman:—

"We learn from Capt. Peddle, of brig Ann Eliza L, from Laguay ra, that the brig Carracas, Wheeler, of Philadelphia, chartered by the authorities of that place, sailed thence on the 13th November last, in company with four men of war, for Santa Martha, for the purpose of receiving on board and conveying to Laguira, for interment, the remains of the late President Bolivar."

Ohio River.—There has been a sudden rise of the Ohio. At Wheeling, on Saturday, there were sixteen teet water in the channel, and the river was still rising. At Pittsburg, on same day, the river had twenty feet of water in the channel. At Cincinnati, on Friday last, the swell from above was beginning to be felt. At Louisville, on Thursday last, there were four feet three inches of water in the canal. From Louisville down to the Mississippi, not more than four feet in the channel.

Diabolacal.—The St. Louis Era states that on the night of the 1st instant a fire arm of some kind, loaded with fifteen to twenty bullets, was discharged into a sleeping chamber, no doubt with the intention of killing John M. Eager, Esq. Circuit Attorney, who was engaged in trying the murderers of Major Floyd. The perpettators of this act mistook the position of Mr. E's chamber, and his life was thus saved. There was no doubt that they were the associates of the murderers who were then on trial.

San Accident.—The Newport Mercury says that a letter received from Canton states, that Captain Lincoln Turner, who commanded a fast sailing schooner, while on his passage from Macao to Whampoa, was knocked overboard by the boom of the vessel he commanded, and notwithstanding every effort was made to save him, was frowned. Captain Turner was a young man of great promise, and was the only son of George Turner, of Newport. Capt. Turner, it will be recollected, sailed from Boston, in command of schooner Anglona, for Canton.

Speakboat Accidents.—The steamboat Boston from Cincinnati for St. Louis, struck a saag last week in the Mississippi, a short distance above the mouth of the Ohio, by which a hole was knocked into her bow forward of the bulk-head. This they succeeded in stopping. At the foot of Devil's Island, three miles above Cape Giradeau, on Thursday last, she struck another snag, which entered the breach tormerly made, and passed through her after bulwarks. She hung upon the snag, and sank immediately in water from 20 to 25 feet deep. As soon as he began to sink, the passengers gathered, with their baggage, on the hurricane deck. As she filled, she careened over, by which a number of the trunks were thrown overboard and lost. With the exception of the trunks lost in this way, the passengers saved their baggage. No lives were lost. The boat and cargo was considered a total loss. Intelligence has been received at Cincinnati, of the loss of the new steamboat American Eagle, at Plum Island, on the Mississippi. She was run aground and sunk immediately after snagging. Pretty much all her cargo, consisting of tobacco, bale rope and bagging, was throwh overboard, and every effort was made to save her, though with but little hope of success. The boat cost $28,000, and was owned principally by the captain. An arrival at Cincinnati on the 10th instant, reports the loss on the Mississippi of the steamboats Leander and Harrisburg, one of them at the mouth of the Muddy, and about ten miles below Cairo.

MADAME RESTELL'S PIREVENTIVE POWDERS.
M.—These invalidable flowders have been universally adopted in Europe, but France in particular, for upwards of thirty years, as well as by thousands in this country, as being the only mid, asie, and efficacious remedy for married ladies, whose health forbids a too rapid increase of family.

Madame Restell, as is well known, was for thirty years Fe male Physician in the two principal Female Hospitals in Europe—those of Vienna and Paris—where lavorec by her great experience and opportunities, she attained that celebrity in those great discoveries in medical science so specially adapted to the lemale frame, for which her medicines sow stand univalled, as well in this country as in Europe. Her acquaintance with the physiology and anatomy of the lemale frame, enabled her—by tracing the decline and ill health of marries females, scarce in the meridian of life, and the consequent rapid and often apparently inexplicable causes which consign many a fond mother to a premature grave—to their true source—to air rive at a knowledge of the primary cances of female indepositions—especially of married female—which, in 1805, led to the discovery c her celebrated "Preventive Tox ders." Their adoption has been the unemas of preserving not only the health, but evan the life of many an affectionse wife and found mother.
